BALMACEDA SEIZES SILVER.

Sends a Million to England
For Supplies.

The Battle Now Waging May
Settle the War.

Silver Seized in Santiago.

By Cable and Associated Press.]
LONDON, Aug. 24.—A dispatch to the Times, published to-day from Buenos Ayres, confirms the information contained in a letter from Lisbon, to the effect that President Balmaceda of Chili sent a million dollars in silver to Montevideo for shipment to Europe, thanks to the good officer of the British warship Espiegle. President Balmaceda, according to the story, being unable to borrow money, seized the silver bullion in the treasury at Santiago De Chili, which was stored there as security for fiduciary circulation, in order to be able to pay sums due to European contractors, who have been supplying him with ships, arms and ammunition. The writer of this communication added: Balmaceda, being unable to hire a private vessel to transport the silver to Montevideo, from where it was to be transferred to Europe, managed to persuade the commander of the H. M. S. Espiegle to convey the silver to Montevideo, where the money was landed August 15th.

The Times, in commenting upon this letter, said it was confident the commander of the Espiegle took this step without the consent of the British admiralty. It seemed that the British war ship was made an accomplice to a downright robbery. The Times said the master demanded full and prompt investigation.

Bloody Battle in Chili.

By Cable and Associated Press.]
VALPARAISO, Aug. 24.—A desperate battle between the forces under Balmaceda, numbering about thirteen thousand, and the Congressional army of less than seven thousand men, is being fought at Vina del Mar, five miles from here. The insurgents, aided by six of their war-ships, forced the Aconcagua river after an all-day's battle on Friday, in which nearly three thousand men were killed and wounded. The Government forces retreated to Vina del Mar, followed by the insurgents, a constant skirmish fire being maintained on both sides. The battle was resumed yesterday, and the wounded are constantly being brought in. It is believed Valparaiso will be bombarded by the fleet if Balmaceda is defeated, but if the insurgents are defeated they will probably re-embark, as they have put forth all the strength they have.

Mons of Veterans.

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 24.—The tenth annual encampment of the Sons of Veterans began in this city to-day, with about 5,000 members in attendance. The commandery begins its session this afternoon. Commander Webb, in his annual address, stated the actual membership to-day was 150,000, 26,623 being taken in the past year.

The Grand Commandery went into executive session at 2 o'clock. The principal business was the reception of the annual reports.

A Welsh Explosion.

By Cable and Associated Press.]
MERTHY TYDFIL (Wales), Aug. 24.—A frightful explosion took place in Abercarnoid pit, near here this morning, while all the men were at work; the number of dead and imprisoned is unknown. Sixty so far has been rescued. Searching parties so far have taken out only two killed. Many yet are missing.

Stanley and Wife.

GENEVA, Aug. 24.—Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Stanley left Muerran to-day for Paris. Stanley seems to be almost recovered from the injury to his leg, which he sustained through a fall while at Muerran.

China Steamer Sighted.

By Cable and Associated Press.]
SAN FRANCISCO, August 24.—The steamship City of Rio Janeiro, from China and Japan, was sighted off the coast at 11:20 A.M.

A Business Men's Association.

It is somewhat strange that while the women of Reno are all of a friendly disposition and never have a quarrel or a word to say against each other, the men are a perfect set of wranglers. Perhaps it is because of their enormous energy and activity, which will not permit them to be quiet and has no better means of employment. It seems as though we might use our fighting qualities to better purpose than tearing each other to pieces, and that by working to overcome the forces of nature and encourage worthy efforts, we might receive great benefits.

Organization is everything in all kinds of business, and we have been turned to this subject by a paper handed into the office by a neighbor, who received it from Wm. Goeggel of Woodland. It is the constitution of the "Woodland Business Men's Association," which has done much to build that city up. It is to-day one of the richest cities in the world in proportion to its population, as shown by the census. It has no advantages over Reno, but its citizens have all pulled together and helped anything that would help the town. Meetings are held twice a month in summer and once in winter, and any reputable citizen becomes a member by a fee of two and a half dollars and dues of fifty cents a month, and a two-thirds vote.

The aims and purposes of the association are to foster and advance the material interests of Woodland by increasing and extending its trade; by attracting thitherward and encouraging new enterprises; by promoting among the people of the community a spirit of progress; by inaugurating and championing public improvements; by looking after the sanitary welfare of the city; by using proper methods to draw it to a desirable increase in population, and in everything that offers an opportunity to aid in sustaining the good name of Woodland at home and abroad.

There are many ways in which such an institution would help Reno, and we would be glad to give our assistance towards its formation. As we are going on now the different elements of which our town is composed, each pulls its own way and is as liable to drag down as to build up.

It is easy to make war on each other, but why should we?

San Bernardino came out of the boom in Southern California just about the size it was when it began, because it was pull and haul between its citizens all the time. Every other town made progress but it. The moral is too plain to be misunderstood.

A Fertile Land.

The Elko Independent says: "Myron Pixley, who owns a fine ranch in Lamoille Valley, informed the Independent yesterday that he was cutting his second crop of alfalfa for the season, and that it would average at least two tons to the acre. Just twenty days from the time he commenced haying his machines started over the same ground cutting the second crop, so that the yield of two tons to the acre is the growth of the alfalfa for twenty days. When we take into consideration the wonderful fertility of our soil, and the invigorating, health-giving qualities of our climate and the returns that are sure to follow capital judiciously invested, it seems strange that people seeking homes will pass our State by and settle in less favored portions of our country. All Nevada needs is better transportation facilities and the free coinage of silver to make her a queen among her sister States. The soil, climate and mineral resources are here and immigration will come when the wonderful capabilities of our State are fully understood by the home seekers of the over crowded portions of our own country and foreign lands."

REPORTS show that all around us the spirit of progress is aroused, and Nevada alone is standing still. Utah, Idaho, Oregon, Arizona and California are making great advances. Why not Nevada?

Caste in India.

dindoo Travellers Who Were Indiscreet in The Associations.

A "cause célèbre" has just been concluded in India involving the purity of caste of two young Jains, who in the judgment of a large number of their fellows had contaminated themselves. In 1889, says the New York Sun, Nahatta, the son of a wealthy Jain of Moorshedabad, decided to visit Europe with two Jain comrades. At Bombay some Jains tried unsuccessfully to dissuade them. Soon after their start their offense was alleged to have occurred—namely, they lost their caste by taking European food with Europeans. On their return home they found a large section of the Jain community opposed to their being readmitted to their caste. In the course of the dispute, which seems to have split the Jains of Moorshedabad into two parties—one Chutterpati, and some others published a pamphlet setting out the alleged enormities of which the young men had been guilty and arguing against their purification and readmission to the caste. Thereupon Chutterpati and others were prosecuted for a criminal libel, and the whole question at issue was whether the religious or caste customs of the Jains had been violated by Nahatta and his friends or not. The judge described the Jain community as one of great antiquity, dating back to 8 or 9 A. D., while their strictness in regard to food, he said, amounted to fanaticism. Nahatta himself said that he would object to take rice at a table where Europeans ate meat, or to eat vegetables cooked or served by Europeans or Mohammedans. He contended that while on board the steamer he ate nothing but vegetable food (in this he was corroborated by the captain) cooked in his own utensils and on a stove of his own. He averred that he took his own rice, on which he lived between Bombay and London, and that while in Europe he lived on vegetable food cooked by himself. But the evidence against the young man was pretty strong. While in India they seem to have been watched at railway refreshment-rooms and at hotels, and were seen to eat eggs and other forbidden food; on board the steamer it was proved they ate at the ordinary table, though they did not partake of meat; and a waiter at a boarding house in Woburn place gave evidence to the same effect as to their stay in London. It appears that after their return the relatives of the young men, though not excluding them from their houses, refused to eat with them, and that subsequently one meeting of the Jains excommunicated them, while another condemned them. It was also shown that a resolution signed by six hundred Jains was passed, declaring the young men themselves and all who should eat with them outcast. The jury gave a verdict for the defendants, on the grounds that the statements in the pamphlet were made honestly and with a belief in their truth, and that the defendants had sufficient interest in the subject to justify them in publishing the facts.

FOREIGN CRIMINALS.

The Sly Way They Live of Effecting Landing in America.

For some time past a good deal has been said and written concerning the number of ex-convicts and criminals who manage somehow to land at this port in spite of the authorities.

A reporter for the New York Recorder was present at the arrival of a tramp steamer the other day. The tramp did not carry passengers and did not need a large crew to handle her. Yet she seemed to have many more men than was needed. The reporter remarked this to a bronzed man who looked like a sailor. The sailor man looked for a moment at the men, who were practically falling over each other on the ship. "More'n enough to handle the ship!" he said. "I sh'd say there wuz, per'vin' they wuz all good men. But they ain't. Some on 'em ain't sailor men at all, an' never will be, an' don't want to be. They don't sail under them kind of colors!"

"What are they doing on the vessel, then? They are not passengers?" "No, not passengers, not eggzactly that," said the old salt, "an' no more ain't eggzactly the crew. In fact, they be a kind of their own, an' a werry bad kind, too, if I'm not mistaken. Sposin' it's Liverpool, or s'posin' it's some other port, I ain't particular which. There's always some chap, an' mebbe there's more'n one, or two or three, that wants to leave there. I ain't sayin' why, but they want to leave an' they want to do it as quiet as they can. They don't want any steamers with detectives on the dock an' all that. Nowthin' of the sort. They goes to the captain an' offers to scrub. Mebbe he says he don't want any men. Then mebbe they say that they are willin' to go for small pay or for to work their way an' mebbe a five-pound note gets into the captain's hands while he is talkin' that wasn't there before. An' then, mebbe when that captain's ship goes out that chap what did the talkin' is on board as one of the crew. An' mebbe he's on it too when she gets into New York or Boston or some other place. Then mebbe if you went to the captain of that ship a couple of days after she gets into this port and asked him where that chap was, he'd tell you that he skinned off the ship—deserted the night she got in; an' he'd be tellin' you the truth.

"Now, mind I ain't sayin' anything against that craft over there," continued the speaker, "but I'll just continue about the chap I was talkin' about. Mebbe that chap gets into trouble with the police before he's here long, an' then it comes out that he's a new one here an' that he left the other side because the bobbies wanted him. Why, then the newspapers wonder how these criminal and ex-convicts gets here.

"Now," said the man of the sea, turning his quid, "I leave it for you to guess how it is."

Bone Cards.

What is the most curious material of which a pack of cards was ever made? Bone cards. The governor of a penitentiary in the far west has a pack of cards which was made by one of the convicts out of the beef bones collected from the convicts' soup and split to a delicate thinness. The pips are scratch'd with a pin, and are quite artistically executed.

Serofilia, Sores.

"My adopted boy, aged 14 years, suffered terribly from serofilia sores on his leg, which spread till they at one time formed one great sore from the calf of his leg up to his thigh, partially covered with scabs, and discharging matter continually. The muscles became contracted so that his leg was drawn up and he could hardly walk. We tried everything we could bear of, without success, until we began giving him Hood's Sarsaparilla. In just a month, after he had taken two-thirds of a bottle, the sore entirely healed, his leg is perfectly straight, and he

Head-Aches

Sick-headaches are the outward indications of derangements of the stomach and bowels. As Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla is the only bowel regulating preparation of Sarsaparilla, it is seen why it is the only appropriate Sarsaparilla in sick-headaches. It is not only appropriate; it is an absolute cure. After a course of it, occasional doses at intervals will forever prevent return.

ZEO. M. COX, of 205 Turk Street, San Francisco, writes: "I have been troubled with attacks of sick-headache for the last three years from one to three times a week. Some time I bought two bottles of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla and have only had one attack since and that was on the second day after I began using it."

"More'n enough to handle the ship!" he said. "I sh'd say there wuz, per'vin' they wuz all good men. But they ain't. Some on 'em ain't sailor men at all, an' never will be, an' don't want to be. They don't sail under them kind of colors!"

There was a fire in a store in a small town in New Jersey, and a New York reporter went to write up the place as a prominent instance of the place if the fire was the work of an incendiary. AUGUST 20.—A well known manufacturer of boots and shoes at 820 Nolan St., San Antonio, Texas, will not soon forget his experience with an attack of the cramps which he relates as follows: "I was taken with a violent cramp in the stomach, which I believe would have caused my death had it not been for the prompt use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy. The first dose did me so much good that I repeated it up to 30 minutes when each dose, and the doctor could get to where I was, I did not need any more. ### ASCENT OF MT. ROSE,

At Secret Peak of the Sierras, with Sylvan Lakes in Sight.
EDITOR GAZETTE: On the 15th of August a party started from Brown's Station for the summit of Mt. Rose. On coming to the meadows in White's canyon, the camping ground was so desirable and the fishing so good, the tents were pitched and the day spent on the camping grounds.

Early next morning the following started for the summit: Miss Laura Brown, Charles Brown, the Misses Harden, Lee Harden, James Good, Thomas Sadler, the Misses Wright, William Wright and James Wright. The members of the party rode and walked alternately from the camping ground to the "tree line" where the saddle horses were tied. From there the ascent was slow, the incline being very steep and the air exceedingly rare. By this time the monument on the top of Mt. Rose became plainly visible to the naked eye, and the nearer the monument appeared the harder became the ascent.

At last the whole party reached the topmost height of Mt. Rose, and before our enchanted vision lay the beautiful blue waters of Lake Tahoe, and though some miles away, we could look down upon it and imagine it to be at the very base of the mountain.

It lay in a southern direction, and to the northwest appeared Donner Lake. Who can imagine the beauty of this little mountain lake when seen from the summit of Mt. Rose? Almost directly west was a high peak with its snowy summit glistening in the sun. To the northwest Sierra Valley could be seen in the far distance. Northeast of this appeared Pyramid in two parts, divided by a high mountain. Very much nearer to our view was the Truckee river winding through its green meadows. The adjacent valleys of Steamboat, Pleasant and Washoe, with their farm-houses, shade trees, orchards, golden grain and clover fields and green pastures, with herds of grazing cattle, could be seen with the aid of the field glasses.

Two of the party who traveled over ledges and canyons with greater agility than the rest, were talking of the possibility of a graded road through Black's canyon (a deep depression southeast of Mt. Rose) to Lake Tahoe. This would be the means of a summer resort being quickly built on the shore of Lake Tahoe in Washoe county, where the people of Reno, Virginia and Carson could drive in a vehicle to spend a few days during the warm weather. It would also bring many tourists to Mt. Rose, whose surrounding beauties are not fully known or appreciated. A passable road leads from Brown's Station to the mouth of Black's canyon.

The Europa Sentinel of Saturday says: Five men employed on R. Sadler's ranch, at Sulphur Station, this country, narrowly escaped death by poison on Tuesday night last. They were George Woods and four others whose names were not given us. Arsenic in large quantities had been put in the sugar. After eating the sugar nausea set in, and Woods ran to the door to relieve himself by vomiting. There were two puppies in the doorway. One of them lapped the milk and rice that Woods had emitted, and was seized with convulsions and died in a few minutes. This told the story and there was great alarm among the other boys got less poison and consequently escaped with less injury. Samples of the sugar brought in and left with the Sheriff show plainly the crystals of arsenic in great profusion. The arsenic is supposed to have been put in the sugar by a China cook, one Lee Ling, who was discharged after working about one month.

THE RICHMOND COMPANY.

A Report of the Directors Made August 1st.

The Europa Sentinel of Saturday says: The report of the directors of the Richmond Consolidated Mining Company (Limited) states that during the year under review, 1,346 tons of ore were raised from the Richmond mine, and 128 tons purchased, altogether 1,374 tons, containing by assay about 690 ounces of gold, 20,854 ounces of silver and 150 tons of lead. This ore was sold at Salt Lake and Eureka for $6,882.44, 3d. of the expenses of mining and freight were $4,440.16, 5d. and after paying $1,595.12, 1d. 10d. expenses for management and general expenses at Eureka, the mining profit for the year, with sundry receipts amounted to £784.7d. The furnace were shut down during the whole of the year; the small amount of ore raised from the mine in consequence of the action of the United States Government with regard to the timber suits making it undesirable to start them.

A More Cure for Plies.

Matching Plies are known by name, like perspiration causing intense itching when warm. This form, as well as blisters, bleeding and protruding, yield at once to Dr. Bosanko's File remedy, which acts directly on the skin, and gives a permanent cure, always itching and effects a permanent cure.

Dr. Bosanko, Piqua, O. Sold by S. J. Hodgkinson.

Desires to Bear Testimony.

Henry Noflinger, Deputy Sheriff of Humboldt county, came in yesterday with an insane man named Doc Polard, who was committed to the asylum with Winnebucco.

One car load of thirteen mules from Omaha came in Saturday over the S. P. R. R. and went forward to-day over the N. C. & O. Ry., destined for government use at Ft. Bidwell.

The great Chin Valley Beet Sugar Company, having completed its plant, the ponderous machinery was, on Thursday, set in motion and the first beets entered the building to be converted into merchantable sugar.

At Wells, Nevada, on Thursday, a prospector named Matthew Shields arrived with several pounds of decomposed quartz that is literally bespangled with gold. He is very reticent as to the location of the quartz find.

In Lyon county at a meeting of the Board of Equalization, the tax roll was overhauled and it was found that the valuation of property in the county amounted to $1,753,187 as against $1,459,490 for last year, an increase of nearly $300,000.

A car load of 325 dozen live chickens, from Kansas City, passed west this morning, destined for San Francisco. Three tiers of coops were on the hurricane deck and it looked like cruelty to chickens, to be roasted alive in such fashion.

The Salt Lake Tribune says: Ben Hampton returned from the Osceola, Nev., placer mines yesterday, and he says that they are doing nicely there, except that the water is shrinking considerably in their ditches. He is confident that they will have a big clean up for the season.

Fresno vineyardists have been at last obliged to employ Chinese to pick their grapes. They tried to get Indians and sent agents to the mountains to bring all who would work, but no one could be had to pick the crop. The Celestials are at Fresno by thousands from all parts of the State, and have entered into a combination among themselves to strike for higher wages. Many have found employment at $1 75 a day.

Hate and Heart.

It is said that a proposition is under advisement for opening the road from Hot Springs to Carson by the way of Incorp. As there is less than two miles of road to build the writer will receive favorable notice. This will make an easement and at the same time a shorter road to Reno, Carson, Washoe Valley, Virginia City and other Nevada points to the north side of the lake.

La Plata Mines.

The people of Ogden are getting up a mining boom over the reported strikes of rich ore found at La Plata, only a few miles distant. The ore seems to be "principally lead" but otherwise not highly metalliferous.

As the miners are mostly Indians, the natives compare it with its popularity, no other rival can it in efficacy. As permanent regulation of disorder in the system, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters must also be regarded as chief among regulators. It conquers and cures inactivity of the liver bowels and kidneys, and promotes the acquisition of flesh and vigor.

Shiloh's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, chapped cheeks, chilblains, small skin eruptions and positively cures pectoral disease.

It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. It's 25 cents per box. No spurious.

The Zirn Mine.

The Salt Lake Tribune says: The Governor of Nevada has informed Governor Thomas that he has appointed J. H. Thies of Lovelock a delegate to the Irrigation Convention, in place of George Young, resigned.

Mr. Thies is one of Nevada's most prominent citizens and is considered an authority on all matters pertaining to irrigation. His ranch at Lovelock is an illustration of what irrigation can accomplish when intelligently directed. Should Mr. Thies attend the convention he will without doubt become a leading participant therein.

Insane from Grief.

A millionaire real estate dealer and business man at Buffalo, lost his wife two years ago and since then he has been a lunatic. A few weeks ago he painted his handsome three-story house on Front Avenue black with tar, and he has repainted this operation once every two weeks since. He is charged with other ridiculous vagaries. He has been examined by an insanity commission and will be taken care of.

The Zirn Mine.

The Carson Tribune of the 22nd says: Joe Raycraft and Henry Daugherty came from Pine Nut last night. They were both taken through the Zirn mine on Thursday, and report that it is all that has been claimed for it by the discoverers. Raycraft and Daugherty say there is two teams running through the quartz that is alive with fine gold.
